BENEFIT FUND BEING RAISED FOR STOFFER

MORE THAN $200 RAISED TO DATE

Patrolman Suffering from Gunshot Wound Faces Long Siege

A benefit fund is being raised by Salem residents for Ralph Stoffer, a traffic patrolman, who is in a hospital, suffering from a gunshot wound, sustained when he accidentally shot himself in the right eye Monday, June 10.

The fund is being raised by merchants and other citizens for the purpose of securing a Cleveland gunshot wound specialist to examine the patrolman's wound, which is reported to be in a serious condition.

More than $200 had been raised up until today, Mayor Phil G. Hiddeson announced this morning. Arthur R. Stark, assistant cashier of the First National bank, who was with Stoffer at the time of the accident, has been placed in charge of the fund.

A consultation was held with a Cleveland specialist last Sunday, it was announced today, it being arranged afterwards that Stoffer will probably be in the hospital under medical care for more than two weeks. It will probably be three months, Mayor Hiddeson stated, before he will be able to resume his duties as patrolman.

He sustained the wound when he attempted to withdraw a combination gun and riot gun from his belt, while guarding funds being transported from the First National bank to the Farmers bank.

SALEM MAN GOES TO PENITENTIARY

Samuel Vogelhuber Taken to Columbus with Two Other Prisoners

Samuel Vogelhuber of Salem, who entered a plea of guilty to possessing implements for the manufacturing of liquor, third offense, and sentenced to pay a fine of $500 and serve from one to five years in the Ohio penitentiary, was taken to Columbus Monday by Sheriff W. J. Barlow and Deputy Sheriff George Harrell.

In the same car was Floyd Thompson, sentenced to serve from 10 to 15 years for assault with intent to rob and Gilbert Kimes, who was sentenced June 14 to serve from one to five years for removing mortgaged property out of the county.

BOND ISSUE FOR NEW FIRE HALL

Leetonia Council Will Place $10,000 Issue Before Voters; Hileman Becomes Councilman

Leetonia, June 25.—The Leetonia council at its recent meeting decided to place before the voters at the next election a bond issue to provide a new fire hall in which to house new fire equipment purchased recently.

The proposed issue will be for $10,000. The council confirmed the appointment of Myron Hileman as a member of the council to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of P. R. Shaffer, who has removed to Youngstown. The appointment was made by Mayor D. H. Schaeffer.

County Motor Club Is Cited For Gain

Albert P. Morris has returned from the Cedar Point where he represented the Columbian County Motor club at the annual convention of the Ohio State Automobile association.

The local club received much favorable comment, being cited among the leading clubs in membership increase and among the few clubs which have installed complete air travel services. The club was further recognized by having appointed Mr. Morris on the convention nominating committee.

The unanimous election, to a second term of B. B. Crawford, Marion, was gratifying to his many friends in this county and the motor club executives of Ohio are enthusiastic in the outlook for success for the ensuing year.

Burglar Sentenced

Canton, June 25.—Orbie Goe, 19, one of the three "match burglars" who burglarized Canton several months ago, just joined his pals in the Mansfield Reformatory.

He was under sentence today to spend an indeterminate period in the Mansfield institution. His pals received similar sentences from the juvenile court.

American Aviators Abandon Plans For World Flight

Washington, June 25.—Adventurous American aviators who have established a non-stop flight around the world as the supreme goal of sky pioneers, have found so many difficulties besetting their path that there is little likelihood of the attempt being made soon, aviation authorities said here today.

A half dozen projected attempts to write brilliant new chapters in the rapidly changing aviation history of the last three years, have been temporarily or permanently abandoned.

Financial backing of $250,000 to $500,000 estimated to be necessary to insure a fair chance to attain the great goal, is the chief obstacle.

AIRMEN START 2,000 MILE HOP

Four in "Southern Cross" Undaunted By Privations In Wilds

London, June 25.—Capt Charles Kingsford-Smith and three companions hopped off from Sydney, New South Wales, today on a 2,000-mile flight to Derby, in the northwestern part of Australia, on the first leg of their flight from Australia to England in the famous monoplane Southern Cross, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Sydney.

Undaunted by their recent privations when they were forced down in the Australian bush, isolated from the world for about 14 days and almost died of starvation, the fliers planned a bee-line course in a northwesterly direction across the continent.

Sydney is on the southeast coast of Australia. Derby is situated on a bay on the northwest coast. Between are endless miles of wild country, mountain ranges and deserts.

The fliers, however, have full confidence that the huge, tri-motored Southern Cross, which flew from California to Australia with stops at Hawaii and the Fiji Islands, will bring them to the end of the first leg of their flight in safety.

From Derby, the fliers will cross the Indian ocean to Indo-China and then fly west across Asia and Europe to England, making several stops enroute.

SEEK FUND FOR DRY EDUCATION

Appropriation to Finance Campaign May Be Put In 1931 Budget

Washington, June 25.—A substantial appropriation to finance a campaign of education in favor of prohibition is to be asked in the estimates to be submitted for the 1931 budget by the prohibition bureau.

Miss Ann Sutter, of the Bureau's statistical section, said today that the government hopes to carry on the educational work from year to year instead of on a temporary basis. A trial campaign has been started on the $50,000 appropriation made by the last congress. This sum, however, would be insufficient to carry out the objectives of the prohibition bureau.

Senator Wesley L. Jones (R) of Washington, author of the "Five and Ten Law," endorsed the educational drive for prohibition observance.

DALBONE CRASHES INTO DOOR OF FIRE HEADQUARTERS, BUT DAMAGE IS SLIGHT; FINE IS $50

John Dalbone, Salem, crashed his way into City hall, shortly after 9 p.m. last night.

Driving east on Main st., Dalbone turned off the south side of the street, apparently attempting to make a U-turn, when he lost control of his automobile, crashing into one of the doors of the police and fire headquarters.

Firemen Henry Jones and James Hinkle arrested the driver and lodged him in jail, and upon arraignment before Mayor Phil G. Hiddeson, he pleaded guilty to a charge of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated. He made arrangements to pay a fine of $50 and costs and was released.

Damage to both City hall and the machine was slight.

FIGHT FAILS TO KEEP BOY ALIVE

Firemen Pump Oxygen Into Lungs of Boy for 5 Days, But Relapse Shatters Their Hopes

Cleveland, June 25.—A five-day fight by Euclid Village firemen to save the life of Gerald Hodge, 7, proved in vain today.

Oxygen had been pumped into the boy's lungs since Friday and yesterday it was believed the fight had been won. A relapse however shattered these hopes.

The boy's illness was brought on by an attack of pneumonia and physicians had given up hope for his recovery when the father, Joseph Hodge, appealed to Fire Chief Ernest Erick. Firemen rushed oxygen tanks to the bedside and since then worked in relays, pumping it into Gerald's lungs.

The boy's strength slowly ebbed and he died early today.

BOOKKEEPER HELD FOR EMBEZZLEMENT

San Francisco, June 25.—Charged with the alleged embezzlement of $6,000 from the First National Bank of Columbus, Ohio, Frank Ennis, former bookkeeper of the bank, was under arrest here today.

BURGLAR SENTENCED

Canton, June 25.—Orbie Goe, 19, one of the three "match burglars" who burglarized Canton several months ago, just joined his pals in the Mansfield Reformatory.

He was under sentence today to spend an indeterminate period in the Mansfield institution. His pals received similar sentences from the juvenile court.

Parks Airport, East St. Louis, Mo., June 25.—Captain Frank Hawks, holder of the trans-continental non-stop flight record, who was expected to take off here at daybreak for New York on the second leg of his Los Angeles-to-New York flight, was held here "indefinitely" today by a leak in his gas tank.

Martin Ferry, June 25.—Death, allied with the torrid weather, snatched a newborn babe, one of the triplets born to Mrs. John K. Cox, last Friday, from life yesterday. The little son succumbed to the heat.

TEN ARRESTED IN SEIZURE OF BOOTLEG PLANT

Large Distillery Raided On Farm Near Detroit; Stills Bubbling

FULL POWER FOR HOOVER IS PLAN

Watson Wants President To Reorganize Entire Enforcement Body

Detroit, June 25.—Ten men were arrested today and equipment valued at thousands of dollars was confiscated by federal agents in a raid on one of the largest bootleg distilleries in Michigan.

The distillery was located in two large barns on a farm near here. The farm, stocked with farm implements and cattle, was a "blind," according to Thomas H. Brennan, deputy prohibition administrator in charge of the raid.

Brennan claimed the distillery was in full operation when the agents made their raid. Two copper column steam stills, more than 20 feet high, were bubbling in the preparation of alcohol, he said, and approximately 35,000 gallons of alcohol mash stood in vats and coolers nearby.

Would Give Hoover Power

Washington, June 25.—President Hoover will be given carte blanche authority to organize the whole federal prohibition enforcement service and consolidate it under a single head, if congress approves a plan proposed today by Senator James E. Watson (R) of Indiana.

Watson would have congress empower the president to take the coast guard, the border patrols and the prohibition bureau itself out of the treasury department entirely and put them all into a new bureau in the department of justice. The Indiana senator would leave all changes entirely to the president even though congress would later have to ratify the new organization.

Missouri Senator Watson declared present conditions were "unbearable" and were "undermining the moral fibre of America's youth." A life-long dry in politics, Watson urged enforcement of the dry law to the limit.

Editor Wesley L. Jones (R) of Washington, author of the "Five and Ten Law," endorsed the educational drive for prohibition observance.

FIVE WOMEN ON TEACHER'S JURY

Ruth Livermore On Trial For Burglary; Repudiates Confession

Youngstown, June 25.—Seven men and five women were in the jury box in common pleas court here today to hear evidence in the trial of Ruth M. Livermore, young former school teacher, charged with burglary.

Circutor Ray Thomas, who more than a year ago succeeded in having the girl sentenced to life imprisonment on the strength of a confession she later repudiated, has charge of the state's case. The court of appeals ordered the present trial.

Mrs. Livermore claims she took no part in the robbery but sat in a parked car while her husband looted the home of John Mitchell on the night of April 6, 1928. The husband is serving a life sentence.

Judge David G. Jenkins, presiding, pointed out to the jury that the defendant was innocent unless the state could establish she was implicated in the actual burglary.

Word was received from Pittsburgh, where the loot was disposed of, that if Mrs. Livermore is freed she will not be prosecuted.

The score was 6-3, 6-2, 4-6, 6-3.

FAMED CANINE ACTOR IS DEAD

Hollywood, Calif., June 25.—No more shall the lithe and graceful figure of Strongheart, the first of Hollywood's dog stars, grace the screen.

The famed canine actor is dead today, following a persistent illness. He died at the home of Jane Murfin, his owner who introduced him to motion pictures eight years ago. He was 13 years old.

Strongheart's bright career began with the German Red Cross during the war, when he displayed almost human intelligence. After Miss Murfin brought him from Germany to Hollywood, the dog starred in a series of pictures, notably "The Silent Call," "Brown of the North," and "White Fang."

Strongheart is survived by his mate, Lady Puie.

Damage to both City hall and the machine was slight.

Here's Telephone Conversation From Plane 1000 Feet Over Jersey Direct To London

BY HOMER H. METZ
Aviation Editor, I. N. S.

Hadley Field, New Brunswick, N. J., June 25.—For the first time in history a telephone conversation from an airplane flying 1,000 feet over New Jersey direct to London was accomplished here today under the auspices of the American Telephone and Telegraph company.

"May I hope that by developing aviation it may help to bring the nations of the world closer together so that there may be a better understanding of all by all."

Little Static

At this point there was some little static, the only time the conversation was interrupted, but it was quickly eliminated and talking was resumed.

"Mr. Paul Hampton of the London Evening Standard is in the room," Flory said. "Have you any message for the Standard?"

"Yes, I have a message from Miss Amelia Earhart, the first woman to fly the Atlantic by airplane."

After the contact was established, he took the line and said, "Hello, London."

Miss Earhart's Message

The following message was then read to him from Miss Earhart: "It is a pleasure for me to take even the smallest part in an experiment such as this. Telephoning across the Atlantic was a great accomplishment a short while ago. Doing so today from an airplane is greater still."

"With long distance flights becoming more and more frequent such service will soon be a tremendous factor in the transportation of freight and passengers. Not only will it be employed to aid the pilot but air travelers will be made to feel more at home by its use."

Answer Is Clear

The following message was then read to him from Miss Earhart: "Hello, plane, we can hear you clearly."

Harry Flory, manager of the International News Service, was put on the line.

CART BEFORE THE HORSE

Congress adjourned for summer recess with a final discussion of prohibition enforcement in which President Hoover was criticized for his appointment of a general law investigation committee whose work will require years of research instead of a prohibition commission which presumably would work swiftly. Among the leaders of this criticism were Senators Carter Glass of Virginia, and Joe T. Robinson of Arkansas, both Democratic drys, who were particularly interested in the proposal to name a congressional committee to consider a departmental transfer of enforcement activities. Senator Harry B. Hayes of Missouri, a Democratic wet, also took a parting dig at President Hoover by criticizing his action in naming a general law commission and dodging the immediate problem of prohibition enforcement.

It was revealed in the discussion that it was not the original purpose of the legislators who backed the bill for the commission appropriation to include anything in the scope of its activities other than prohibition and its enforcement. The phrase "and other law" crept into the wording accidentally and it is charged that the president has neglected prohibition almost entirely.

Senator Wesley Jones of Washington, who defended the administration's action, requested that the president be given more time before his apparent lack of action is criticized. Senator Jones would try to convince his fellow legislators that great things are not done over night and that it is silly of them to expect everything to be corrected by a pass of the hand.

It would seem that the originators of the bill which created the comission made the mistake of placing the cart before the horse. They assumed that the biggest question in the country was apparent failure of the prohibition amendment to function. It was their wish that all the power of the government be directed to correction of that failure. President Hoover detected something more significant in the whole thing than the unlawful thirst of the citizens of the country. It was a question whose solution depended upon the solution of a greater question—wide-spread disrespect for law or in his words, "a subsidence of foundations." Without seeking the permission of the powers that be, he moved the horse around to its proper place and started operations. He has been trapped. While worthy senators may appreciate the fact that the horse has precedence over the cart in cases of common sense, they insist that more can be done by a reversal of the usual form in the case of prohibition.

AIR-RAIL SERVICE

At the time the "steel horse" suspended the lumbering stagecoach, it was the general assumption that the acme of transportation had been reached, yet there is fully as much of a gap between the transcontinental air-rail service inaugurated by the New York Central last week and the railroad service of that day as there was between the then railroad service and that of the stagecoach.

The new service brings New York city and Los Angeles within sixty hours of each other, or practically two business days—a day and three nights by train and a full day by airplane. By way of explanation the passenger covers the distance from New York to Cleveland by rail. From Cleveland through Chicago and Kansas City to Garden City, Kansas, he is transported through the air, the remaining distance, being made by rail over the Santa Fe. Leaving New York on the Southwestern Limited, a light breakfast, what the French call petit dejeuner, is served in Cleveland before the takeoff. Breakfast proper is served in Chicago at 10 o'clock and luncheon in Kansas City. A stop of half an hour is made at each of the last-named two points, and the meals are served in newly-established restaurants at the airports.

Twelve passenger planes are operated in the new service, which has opened up something like 700 miles of scheduled daily flying of passengers, each plane being provided with two pilots and a steward.

It's a fine bit of enterprise by the New York Central, but in the light of the rapid development of air transportation in the last twenty years, it is hardly probable that any will make the mistake of assuming, as was done when the railroads replaced the stagecoaches, that the limit has been reached. The very near future will probably demonstrate that a mere beginning has been made to meet the demands of those who wish to speed from ocean to ocean or between intermediate points.

What Others Say

OLD AIM: NEW TACTICS

The personages who run things in Moscow may or may not be justified in their expectation that the new Labor government in London will straightway recognize their regime. Perhaps it will, although on the other hand Mr. MacDonald is a fanny Scotchman before he is a Socialist, and he has no sympathy with Communism.

However, the Bolshevik publicists are registering optimism, and are endeavoring to create a little extra atmosphere by delicately disseminating the suggestion that in case Great Britain does take their regime by the hand, the United States will follow its example and likewise recognize Moscow. Which is another thing again.

There is no sign in the sky that foretells American recognition of the Red outfit in either the near or the middle future, and is certain that when Washington acts, if ever it does, recognition will be extended regardless of what other nations may have done or refrained from doing. This country will not follow anybody's trail.

Nor do we think that present developments on the economic side should at all lead the American government to adopt an indulgent mood in listening to recognition propaganda.

For some years Moscow tried to bulldoze and seduce Washington into opening up diplomatic relations by first threatening to do its trading elsewhere, and then by handing out bait in the form of flowing promises of what it would do if this country would only grasp its almighty hand. Those tactics having scored a zero, the Bolshevik heads have tried a reversal of tactics and now are falling over themselves to do business with the United States, announcing with great ostentation the closing of each new contract.

To a certain extent the tendency to grant concessions and give opportunities to American concerns is unquestionably a reaction to necessity on the part of the Reds. But the motives of those gentry generally are as mixed as their mental processes. It is to be hoped that concerns building plants and granting credits in Sovietland are secured by something more reliable than paper concessions and contracts that they have cash in advance. Otherwise come of them may find that it is easier to get into Russia whole than it is to get out. For they are dealing with thieves and crooks. And there is just a possibility that in the back of the heads of Stalin et al. exists an idea that when the time comes, a bludgeon for forcing recognition from the United States may be found in the involvement of American interests within their area of depots. Blackmail on a national scale has been tried before this—Detroit Free Press.

HOW TO TREAT IVY AND OAK POISONING

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
(United States Senator from New York)

There are many diseases and afflictions which are seasonal. For instance, you suffer from ivy poisoning only during the warm season. This is true also of oak poisoning. Of course these two plants are very much alike. Oak grows in California and the Pacific States. Ivy is met in the Middle and Eastern States.

The symptoms of ivy and oak poisoning are similar. They begin with an intense itching of the skin. This is followed by burning, a rash and very shortly the formation of small papules close together.

The second day these papules or pimple-like spots become swollen and inflamed. The skin is extremely sore to the touch. Later the blisters break of their own accord, or are rubbed by the scratching, permitting the fluid to escape. This appears to spread the poison, passing the infection to other parts of the body.

In severe cases the pus may take the place of the fluid.

I have told you the more serious side of poison ivy. There is little or no excuse for anyone to suffer all these symptoms. If proper care of the skin is taken after exposure to this plant, there need be no violent symptoms.

YOUNG PLAN NOT IDEAL SOLUTION

That Is Dr. Stresemann's
Opinion Expressed In Berlin Report

solution." Dr. Stresemann declared. "Nobody in the world can tell whether it can be carried out successfully."

Dr. Stresemann made the veiled charge that the United States had refused to offer any concessions in the negotiations, although Germany's other former enemies did all in their power to cooperate in an amicable settlement.

"At Paris" he declared, "the European powers did all they could to relieve one another's situation by mutual concessions. For there certainly were no concessions coming from another side."

Although the foreign minister made no mention of the United States, it was obvious he was referring to America and to that nation's refusal to allow the questions of war debts and reparations to become intermingled. His statement revealed the extent to which Germany hoped that the United States would suggest reduction of the allied war debts, which, under the terms of a memorandum appended to the Young plan would immediately have resulted in drastic reductions of the amount of reparations due by Germany.

Berlin, June 25.—In a somewhat bolder address, belying previous reports telling of the whole-hearted enthusiasm with which the Young plan was received in German officialdom, Dr. Gustav Stresemann, foreign minister of the German republic, outlined the negotiations coming at Paris to the Reichstag.

"At Paris" he declared, "the European powers did all they could to relieve one another's situation by mutual concessions. For there certainly were no concessions coming from another side."

MOTHERS now learn value of MAGNESIA

Because it is so helpful in keeping babies and children healthy and happy, every mother should know about Phillips Milk of Magnesia. This harmless, almost tasteless preparation is most effective in relieving those symptoms of babies and children generally caused by souring food in the little digestive tract, such as sour-belching, frequent vomiting, feverishness, colic. As a mild laxative, it acts gently but certainly, to open the little bowels in constipation, colds, children's diseases.

A teaspoonful of Phillips Milk of Magnesia does the work of half a pint of lime water in neutralizing cow's milk for infant feeding, and preventing hard curds. Its many uses for mother and child are fully explained in the interesting book "Useful Information." It will be sent you, FREE. Write The Phillips Co., 117 Hudson St., New York, N. Y.

In buying, be sure to get genuine Phillips Milk of Magnesia. Doctors have prescribed it for over 50 years.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Chas. H. Phillips Chemical Co. and its predecessor, Chas. H. Phillips, since 1875.

SHOP-LIFTING RING OF GIRLS IS DISCLOSED

Newark, O., June 25.—A shop-lifting ring, in which eight girls ranging in ages from 12 to 17 were participants, has been disclosed here, according to police today, who say the ring has stolen about $2,000 worth of wearing apparel and inexpensive jewelry.

Two of the girls have been arrested, stated authorities, and the other six have been ordered to appear in court today.

Because of their ages, the names of the girls were not made public.

Nine stores here are reported to have suffered losses because of the operations of the girls.

Silk dresses, bracelets, necklaces, shoes, fur coats and other wearing apparel were, it is alleged, taken by the girls.

Most of the stolen goods has been recovered and identified, said police.

Helen Wills Given Great Ovation As She Takes Match

Wimbledon, Eng., June 25.—Helen Wills, America's queen of the tennis court, was accorded a tremendous ovation in her first appearance in this year's Wimbledon championships today, when she romped through her match against Miss G. E. Tomlin, of Great Britain, 6-0, 6-0.

Miss Wills allowed her opponent to score only 11 points in the 13 minutes which the match lasted.

Little "Poker Face" had drawn a bye in the first round, so this victory automatically put her into the third round of play. Miss Wills presented an attractive figure as she walked out onto the center of the court attired in a dashing yellow coat, and with her eminently present eyes on her head.

and fro on their way to the "bull pen" for exercise.

"I feel keenly the disgrace this has brought upon my wife and baby," said Dr. Snook. "The one thing that is now buoying up my courage is my wife's loyalty."

"Were you in love with Miss Hix?" he was asked.

Not In Love

"No," he replied. "It was a case of companionship with a most desirable girl—that is, she was desirable at first until she sought to interfere with my private affairs."

Snock said he first met Miss Hix three years ago at Ohio State where she came as a medical student. They became friends and often went motorizing together.

Miss Hix never wanted to marry him. In fact, she said she "wouldn't marry him en a bet." Snock declared. She never asked him to divorce his wife. They planned to go alone as they were going until she left school, and then he expected that she would pass out of his life forever.

Did Not Educate Her

He did not educate her, as reported, although he loaned her sums of money which she always insisted upon paying back. Asked to describe Miss Hix, he said:

"She was very dignified and neat in appearance. She was studious, too. Ordinarily she was calm but when she was aroused she was hard to deal with. She was quite athletic."

Snock scoffed at the contention of the prosecution that the crime was "premeditated." The former world's champion pistol shot, as Snock was, said had he planned the playing he could have ambushed Miss Hix and killed her with a pistol or he could have resorted to drugs which were available at the Stinson-Deter factory.

Columbia Crew Wins American Rowing Title At Poughkeepsie

Hudson Rowing Event Marked With Disaster

Four Shells Submerged By Waves In Annual Race For Title

COLUMBIA WINS BY THREE LENGTHS

Few Crafts Able To Ride Race To Finish Due To High Waters

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
New York, June 25.—It was Columbia the gem of the Hudson, today to the fortunate few whose eyes were those of the basilisk and who, therefore, saw what happened in what was almost the dead of night yesterday when an epic crew from Morningside Heights won a race at Poughkeepsie that will live on through the ages and defy time to produce its equal.

The epic crew was Columbia, which outgamed the pitch and roll of the most turbulent course a Poughkeepsie regatta has known in all history. The race was the four-mile varsity event for the championship of America and, possibly, the world. Never another race produced the amazing drama of this one.

A record field of nine crews started bravely and hopefully out upon the fateful journey from Krum's Elbow to the finish. Before the 2½ mile post was left astern one of them, Massachusetts Tech, had founders all with on board. At the railroad bridge, another followed. It was Syracuse, which had gone so far and could go no further.

Cornell Craft Swamped
Another quarter of a mile and Cornell was in the water, a struggling mass of men and oars. And the last to go down was the greatest, California, the world's champions of 1928. Water-logged from the three-mile mark and unable to answer its helm, the Bear shell finally succumbed to the inevitable within sight of the finish, its heart-broken crew still lashing futilely with their oars as the water rushed into their laps.

Only Columbia, by a miracle of watermanship, was able to outride the waves. Washington, finishing second, made the next best attempt. But the huskies were more than three lengths back and reeled in their stride as the finish was achieved. Pennsylvania and Wisconsin, the rankest kind of outsiders, also lasted to the line in third and fifth, the Navy getting home in fourth position, with signals of distress plainly flying. The Navy was something of an outsider, too.

The situation is that outsiders in the betting were insiders in the lanes. This, in tabloid, tells the story of that boat race, for those nearest the west shore escaped many of the bad waves.

Those on the inside were Pennsylvania, the Navy, Washington and Wisconsin. All of them finished. Those on the outside were Cornell, California, Columbia, M. I. T., and Syracuse. Only one of them finished and this one was the winner, a most impressive winner that rode out the storm with eyes from heads high and hearts whole. Columbia was the double-tread, all-weather crew of this wildest of all days on the Hudson.

National Race Tightens As Cubs' Homers Trim Pirates

Bruins Even Count For Season With Bucs, Wilson And Hornsby Each Clouting Homers; Dodgers Defeat Giants; Indians Wallop Browns

BY LES CONKLIN

New York, June 25.—If the National League race resolves itself into a hand-in-hand fight between Chicago and Pittsburgh, there will be little to choose between the two contenders, for they have broken exactly even in 16 games this season. The Cubs squared the count yesterday when they downed the Pirates in a battle of home-runs, 4 to 3, after the Bucs had administered three consecutive lickings to the McCarty maulers.

Fur-huggers accounted for six of the seven runs scored. Wilson, Hornsby and Cuyler did the Chicago commanding, while Pitcher Brana hit Pittsburgh's lone homer. By their victory the Cubs advanced to within a game and a half of the league leaders.

Hornsby's round-tripper won the game and Wilson's was his eighteenth of the campaign.

Dear Friends:-

One of the easiest things in the world to do is to cut a price. But I've always noticed when anybody offers to cut a price for me, I begin to wonder why.

So far as Kent's American Dry Cleaners are concerned, they have one price to all. I know that positively, because I've watched it.

That price means that the work is done right, and delivered promptly.

You'll get your money's worth here!

"BRIDGE OF SAN LUIS REY"

"The Bridge of San Luis Rey," Thornton Wilder's Pulitzer prize winning novel, which created a literary sensation, now triumphs with dialogue and talking sequences of the story, showing at the Grand. Majestic settings, great cathedrals, picturesque wilds and strange, uncanny lighting and photographic effects; the thrilling spectacle of the wrecking of a great bridge over an Andean gorge, and vivid, intimate details that literally bare the lives of its characters are all woven into the central theme, a story of love.

The cast is a remarkable one, as famous artists fill every principal role. Lily Damita plays the fiery dancer and Ernest Torrence is seen as Uncle Pio. Don Alvarado, Raquel Torres, Henry B. Walthall, Tully Marshall, Emily Fitzroy, Duncan Rinaldo and many others are in the cast.

"GREYHOUND LIMITED"

Monte Blue is again starred as an engineer in "The Greyhound Limited," at the Royal tonight and Wednesday. The story was written by Albert Howson.

The cast includes Edna Murphy, Grant Withers, Lucie Beaumont, Ernie Shields, and Lew Harvey. It is an interesting version of the eternal triangle, the principals being an engineer, his fireman, and a blonde waitress at a railway lunch counter.

Monte, the engineer, boards in the home of the fireman, whose mother is distressed over the fascination the girl has for her son. She asks Monte's help, and finding all other ways fail, he woos the girl from his pal, who, angered and chagrined, takes to drink, loses his job, and is finally framed for murder by the gangsters with whom he has become associated. The lad is sentenced to be hanged and it is Monte's duty to free him. This he does, after hair-raising adventures with highwaymen, runaway trains and many other powers.

"THE RESCUE"

Ronald Colman appears as a fearless sea raver in "The Rescue," his first individual starring filmation, at the State, tonight and Wednesday. Lily Damita is his leading lady.

The story of the famous Conrad romance concerns an English trader and free-booter who has become involved in native wars, trying to rescue a native Rajah for his past services in assisting him back to the throne from which he has been exiled.

The appearance of an English yacht on the scene of these contraband operations brings complications in the shape of a beautiful French woman of the yachting party with whom the trader falls in love. The struggle between his obligations to his native friends and his love for Mrs. Travers gives Colman an admirable opportunity for the fine acting for which he is noted.

ALL-TALKING COMEDY

The first talking comedy to appear in Salem will be shown at the State tonight and Wednesday.

It is "The Eligible Mr. Bangs" and stars Edward Everett Horton. It is 100 per cent talking, with well known stage players cast in all roles. A clever plot and witty dialogue features the show.

"The Eligible Mr. Bangs" is the first of a group of talking playlets of humorous trend which will be shown here.

Even his personal effects have been removed.

Just at twilight last night, the doctor, who admits himself stabbing Miss Theory Hix, 24, co-ed at the college, and beating her with a hammer, was taken from the county jail and accompanied by authorities, was driven to his office in the veterinary building at the university.

Once there Dr. Snook removed his personal belongings and carried them to his home, which is near the campus.

At his home, the doctor and his wife were together for a few moments. Newspapermen made no attempt to overhear the meeting. It was a courtesy to the wife who remained loyal to the husband who sought the companionship of a university co-ed.

A survey of the list of 75 prospective jurors, 12 of whom will hear the man's trial, scheduled to start July 22, showed the names of 16 women.

REMOVE SNOK EFFECTS FROM OHIO STATE U.

Columbus, June 25—Dr. James Howard Snook, the confessed co-ed slayer, and deposed faculty member of the Ohio State university, today had severed every connection with the college.

Even his personal effects have been removed.

Just at twilight last night, the doctor, who admits himself stabbing Miss Theory Hix, 24, co-ed at the college, and beating her with a hammer, was taken from the county jail and accompanied by authorities, was driven to his office in the veterinary building at the university.

Once there Dr. Snook removed his personal belongings and carried them to his home, which is near the campus.
